Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The claims are generally narrative and indefinite, failing to conform with current U.S. practice. They appear to be a literal translation into English from a foreign document and are replete with grammatical and idiomatic errors.

Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1 line 3 "can be" is not a positive limitation. In claim 1 line 6 "the axial direction" has no antecedent basis. It appears that throughout the claims, the same element is denoted by two different terms: "pump wheel" (e.g. claims 1 line 7-8) and "pump blade wheel" (e.g. claim 1 line 5), which should be only one term. In claim 1 line 13 —of the connection channel—should be added after "component", to agree with the specification (page 9 line 18-19).

Claim 5 appears to not further limit claim 1, since the limitations of claim 5 appear to be the same as that of claim 1 line 12-16.

In claim 9 line 2 "a theoretical hypothetical lines" is confusing, since "lines" does not agree with "a".

Claims not specifically mentioned are indefinite, since they depend from one of the above claims.

Double Patenting

A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

Art Unit: 3745

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

Applicant is advised that should claim 8 be found allowable, claim 9 will be objected to under 37 CFR 1.75 as being a substantial duplicate thereof. When two claims in an application are duplicates or else are so close in content that they both cover the same thing, despite a slight difference in wording, it is proper after allowing one claim to object to the other as being a substantial duplicate of the allowed claim. See MPEP § 706.03(k).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. § 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-6, 12 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Bilton.

Claims 1-11, 14 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Mueller. Concerning claims 14 and 15, the channels (unnumbered) through the pump wheel (2 or 3) appears to be a drilling, which would make it circular in cross-section, perpendicular to its axis, and oval in cross-section, taken at a non-perpendicular angle from its axis.

Concerning claims 3 and 4, the housing of each of Bilton and Mueller is directly connected to one of the pump and turbine wheels, and indirectly connected to the other of the pump and turbine wheels through the one of the pump and turbine wheels. Since "at least indirectly connected" is understood to include directly connected, Bilton and Mueller each meet the limitations of claims 3 and 4.
